Sale Catalogues of Blake's Works

Table of Illustrations

Illus. 1 Image of Francis Harvey's shop at 4 St James Street from A General Catalogue of Rare and Valuable Engraved Portraits On Sale by Francis Harvey (n.d.).

Illus. 2 "Temptation of the Lord by Satan", from "William Blake's Original Sketch Book" reproduced in the catalogue of Stan V. Henkels, 21 November 1921, lot 15 (Huntington). The sketch book "is probably the most important Blake item offered for sale in this country", with 50 original sketches by William Blake, together with "quite a number" by George Richmond; "all of Blake's sketches have that weird, mystical technique, which has never been even imitated by anybody since his death"; "the most skeptical would hesitate to pass an adverse opinion of them".

The reproductions do not look at all like Blake, but they do look like George Richmond's work.

Illus. 3 Letter from "W.B." of 24 April [1811] to John [Thomas] Smith, attributed confidently to "William Blake" by the auctioneer (American Art Association, 13-14 March 1928, lot 27); I am confident that it is not by the poet and suggest instead William Beckford.

Illus. 4 W.B., "Directions for Landscape Painting", last page, Anderson Galleries, Sale Number 2256 (3 April 1928), lot 13. The handwriting and context are quite unlike those of the poet.

Sale Catalogues of Blake's Works

Introduction

Since 1951 I have been accumulating information about William Blake. Some of the information comes from sources which are ephemeral, such as sale catalogues, or difficult of access, such as archives in Canberra or Stoke-on-Trent.

The information in this list derives chiefly from

- (1) my own records of thousands of catalogues
- (2) G.E. Bentley, Jr, Blake Books (1977)
- (3) Martin Butlin, The Paintings and Drawings of William Blake (1981)
- (4) Robert N. Essick, The Separate Plates of William Blake: A Catalogue (1983)
- (5) G.E. Bentley, Jr, Blake Book Supplement (1995)
- (6) G.E. Bentley, Jr, "William Blake and His Circle", Blake: An Illustrated Quarterly (1995 ff.).
- (7) G.E. Bentley, Jr, Blake Records, Second Edition (2004)
- (8) Robert N. Essick, "Blake in the Marketplace" for 1971-2013, Blake: An Illustrated Quarterly (1972-2014) for almost all the catalogues of 1971-2013

The list excludes incidental advertisements, announcements,¹ bibliographies, exhibitions,² most Prospectuses for books with Blake's commercial engravings,³ prints extracted from books, and reviews (which often have prices).

The records for Blake's commercial engravings and his pedagogical prints made with Thomas Butts are very irregular until 1971, when Robert Essick began to display them systematically.

I also ignore engravings by William Staden Blake of 'Change Alley.

³ Such as that [1781] for Kimpton's History of the Holy Bible.

Sale Catalogues of Blake's Works

Note that before about 1980 the "British Library" was known as the "British Museum Library" or usually "British Museum".

The locations given for these sometimes very ephemeral catalogues represent only copies I have examined or reported by Essick.

The authority for auction prices and buyers recorded here is not always clear. The Sotheby catalogues in the British Library, the Christie catalogues in Christie's, and the Quaritch catalogues in Quaritch's are generally the master copies and reliable, but the others may not be as worthy of trust.

Almost all the information here for catalogues of 1972-2013 is derived from Robert N. Essick, "Blake in the Marketplace", 1972 ff. Probably most of the catalogues are in his Biblioteca La Solana.

Essick's entries are organized, year by year, under works sold (e.g., Hayley, Ballads), with the same catalogue appearing in, say, half a dozen places, so a good deal of reorganization has been entailed here. Essick intersperses his own comments (e.g., "cheap") among the vendors' descriptions, and I have not always been confident where the vendor ends and Essick begins. I suspect that the phrase "fancy binding" is his.

I omit single prints taken from books unless they are proofs or otherwise remarkable.

Spelling has been adjusted to British/Canadian norms⁵ except for quotations, which are of course literatim.

Note that Enfield, Ritson, and Rees are the editors of the books listed under their names, not the authors.

The auction-prices given here are the hammer-prices; to this the auction-house adds a purchaser's premium varying with the auction-house and the price paid.

⁵ Essick normalized them to U.S. spelling conventions.

False Dates

Job (1826)

150 sets of Job with "Published as the Act directs March 8: 1825" and "Proof" on each plate were printed by Lahee in March 1826 on india paper, the host leaves watermarked J WHATMAN TURKEY MILL 1825; 65 sets with "Proof" on each plate were printed in March 1826 on French paper watermarked J WHATMAN 1825; the word "Proof" was removed, and 100 sets were printed in March 1826 on drawing paper (BB pp. 517-519)

100 sets of Job (without "Proof" and without change to the title page) were printed by Holdgate Bros. in March or April 1874 on india paper mounted on very heavy, unwatermarked paper (BB pp. 523-524). Copies on india paper lacking the word "Proof" were printed in 1874.

Blair, The Grave (1808, 1813)

The work was printed in 1808 folio
1808 quarto, the same type, leaded less generously, signatures altered
1813 folio, the plates still dated 1808
1813 quarto, the plates dated 1813, watermarked EDMEDS & C^o 1811 and EDMEDS & PINE 1802
1813 folio, i.e., John Camden Hotten, 1870, text reset line-for-line using short "s" for long "f" (BB pp. 528-529)

Flaxman, Hesiod (1817)

Longman printed 200 copies of Flaxman's Hesiod in February 1817 (BB p. 538), and there were still 18 copies left in March 1838, when they were sold with the copper plates to H.G. Bohn (BB p. 560). Bohn probably printed the copperplates repeatedly -- he offered reduced-price copies in his 1841 catalogue (BB p. 560). The unwatermarked leaves provide little assistance in establishing a date for the (presumed) reprintings.

Bell & Daldy acquired the copperplates and reprinted them with a title page dated 1870.

Flaxman, Iliad (1805)

According to Longman's records, Flaxman's Iliad (1805) was reprinted without change of title page date in 1806, 1808, 1809, 1813, 1814, 1815, 1822, and 1829, mostly 50 copies at a time. I do not know how to distinguish one printing from another.

Gay's Fables (1793)

It was reprinted with the same date on paper watermarked 1811.

Hogarth, Works (1822 and n.d.)

The Works of William Hogarth (London: Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy, 1822), 119 plates (BB "C")

The Works of William Hogarth (London: Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy, 1822), colophon: "Printed by Jas. Wade", text reset, 116 plates (BB "D")

The Works of William Hogarth (London: Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy, n.d.), colophon: "Printed by Jas. Wade", 116 plates (BB "E")

The Works of William Hogarth (London: Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy, n.d.), colophon: "Printed by G. Norman", 116 plates (BB "F")

The Works of William Hogarth (London: Baldwin, Cradock, and Joy, n.d.), colophon: "Printed by G. Woodfall", 116 plates (BB "G")

Note that there would have been different printers for the typeset text and for the engravings.

Lavater, Essays on Physiognomy

Vol. I (1789) was reprinted with the same date on paper watermarked 1810 and 1817.

Vol. II (1792) was reprinted with the same date on paper watermarked 1810 and 1817.

Vol. III (1798) was reprinted with a date of 1792 on paper watermarked 1817

MR EDWARDS having been disappointed in his endeavours to effect a Sale by auction of his Stock of Books, which disappointment he attributes to the unforeseen and unpropitious state of the times, respectfully announces that he has given directions to MESSRS WINSTANLEY & Co. to discontinue the public Sale; and that the remaining part of the Books described in the Sale Catalogue, with others of a high value and consequence, will be on a PRIVATE SALE in the Large Rooms in the Exchange Buildings adequate, or even a faint idea of the singular nature of these most extraordinary and sublime conceptions of our Artist; but those who have seen his truly original designs for Blair's Grave, may form some faint idea of the style and manner of his treating this equally eccentric and original Poem; to embody which, and give it a visible form and reality required the skill of a great Artist, and the poetic feeling of the original author combined. How far he has succeeded, the present beautiful and sublime Commentary upon his Author, bears ample and delightful evidence; and it may truly be averred, that a more extraordinary, original, and sublime production of art has seldom, if ever, been witnessed since the days of the celebrated Mich. Agnolo, whose grandeur and elevation of style it greatly resembles, and this, alone, if he had left no other work of merit, would be sufficient to immortalize his name, and transmit it to posterity, as that of an Artist of the very highest order. This was the late Mr. Fuseli's opinion. This splendid and unique Work, upon which the Artist was employed for more than two years, has never been published, and this circumstance, it must be allowed, adds greatly to its interest and value.

S. Leigh Sotheby & John Wilkinson, Catalogue of the Principal Part of the Library of Dawson Turner Esq ... Removed from Yarmouth (London, 1853) <Bodley¹⁴³>

- 449 "The Grave; a Poem, with 23¹⁴⁴ etchings by Schiavonetti, from the original designs of W. Blake, fine impressions, with Memoir; an autograph letter [9 June 1818?] by W. Blake, ¹³⁹ The "Eminent Collector" was Edward Vernon Utterson (1776?-1856), according to the Sotheby master copy. He is not known to have owned anything else by Blake.

¹⁴⁰ Perhaps this is the miniaturist and watercolourist James Holmes (1777-1860) to whom Linnell introduced Blake (BR (2), 345, 402). He is not known to have owned anything else by Blake.

¹⁴¹ Perhaps this is "The Man Sweeping the Interpreter's Parlour", a copy of which (2J) Milnes owned (Robert N. Essick, The Separate Plates of William Blake: A Catalogue [1983], 105).

¹⁴² This has always been known as "The Butts Set" of Comus <Butlin #528>, but this is the earliest known association between the Comus designs and Butts.

¹⁴³ The Bodley copy of the 1853 catalogue says "The whole [is] in wretched plight".

¹⁴⁴ Probably "23" is a misprint for "13", the number of prints Schiavonetti made for Blair's Grave.

¹⁴⁷ This is probably the same "Willis" who bought "Oberon and Titania" <Butlin #246> at the Sotheby sale of 11-14 Dec 1865. Perhaps he is Henry Britton Willis (1804-84), landscape painter

Thomas Kerslake's Catalogue of Books Bristol (Bristol) <Bodley>¹⁵²

The Book of Thel [C] "printed from plates engraved in relief, with illustrations in colours, 4to half calf 4l 4s"

Marriage of Heaven and Hell [I], "26 Compositions, with inscriptions, printed by himself in colour from plates engraved in relief, 4to ... cloth, 6l. 6s"

- 733 Songs of Innocence, coloured, plus Songs of Experience, coloured [i.e., Songs (F)], in one octavo half calf volume

These remarkable works are entirely printed from blocks of metal, several for each subject for different colours,¹⁵³ engraved in relief as wood-cuts are done.

¹⁵² The only copy of Kerslake's catalogue I have seen (Bodley: 593 d 108 [15]) lacks the front cover and title page--the title above is the running-head usual in Kerslake catalogue--and the latest date in the catalogue itself is Oct 1853, but it offers both Marriage of Heaven and Hell (I) and The Book of Thel (C), which Kerslake bought in Dec 1853. These two works are among other notable items described on the back cover without lot number.

In undated catalogues Kerslake issued lists of "Books Wanted", including "W. Blake's Songs of Innocence, or other works by him" (Bodley: 2593 d 108 [17]) and "Any Works containing Blake's Engravings" (Bodley: 2593 d 108 [19]) ¹⁵³ The electrotypes of Blake's Songs demonstrate that there was only one copperplate per page.

Inside the cover is a long and very interesting letter from him to the late owner.¹⁵⁵

¹⁵⁴ "G Cumberland" wrote his name on the verso of pl. 28. Kerslake offered "the Library of the late GEORGE CUMBERLAND" in Parts 10 and 13 (1849) of his catalogues.

¹⁵⁵ All Blake's letters to Cumberland went to the British Library in 1849 except for the long, interesting ones of 2 July 1800 and 12 April 1827, the second of which has notes by Cumberland about Blake and is probably the one referred to above.

¹⁶⁴ The initial letter of "Kahn" is defective and therefore dubitable.

- 733 Songs of Innocence, coloured, plus Songs of Experience, coloured [Songs (E)], in one octavo half calf volume; "These remarkable works are entirely printed from blocks of metal, several for each subject for different colours,¹⁷⁴ engraved in relief as wood-cuts are done. They were composed, engraved and printed entirely by his own hand, assisted by his wife. This copy was prepared by him expressly for an intimate friend, and has many touches and tints added, and the effects heightened &c. by him."

A "long and very interesting letter" to George Cumberland [perhaps the one of 1 September 1800] is inserted in the Songs.

¹⁷⁰ Information about the untraced 1855 Sotheby catalogue comes from W.T. Lowndes, The Bibliographer's Manual (1857), I, 215-216.

¹⁷¹ Ahania (Bb) pl. 2^{a-b}, 4 were in the volume of Blakeana including the "Order" of the Songs (BB 337-341) with a note signed "G.A. S[mith]", suggesting that the "Order" was in the untraced Sotheby Catalogue of 1855.

¹⁷³ The date of the Kerslake catalogue derives from the latest publication date in works offered for sale.

¹⁷⁴ If this opaque phrase means that each colour of a design was printed from a different "block of metal", it is mistaken.

[3] Engraved head of Ugolino¹⁹⁴

¹⁹¹ The information here derives from an undated clipping of pp. 3-6 from "F. Harvey's Catalogue of Books" in the Anderdon Papers in the British Museum Print Room. The earliest possible date is 1863, for it refers to Rossetti's catalogue in Gilchrist (1863), and the latest is 27 Nov 1864 (see below). There are no Lot numbers.

W.M. Rossetti wrote to Horace Elisha Scudder, 27 Nov 1864: "A Mr. Harvey, Bookseller of 30 Cockspur-Street, London, S.W., had--and I doubt not still has--some [Blakes], varying from important water-colours to slight scraps; one of his tolerably recent catalogues specifies 33 of the latter sort, to be had in a lump for £1.16." (Quoted from the MS in Harvard; see Selected Letters of William Michael Rossetti, ed. Roger W. Peattie (1990), 134.) The known Harvey catalogue contains no entry like this.

¹⁹³ I have traced catalogues of books (4) and prints (14) or both (1), mostly undated, published by Francis Harvey (1830-99) first at 30 Cockspur Street and later at 4 St James's Street, but none of the catalogues corresponds to the fragment in the Anderdon Collection.

Harvey also published 12 other works. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge held a posthumous auction on 21-23 June 1900 of Harvey's "Valuable and Select Stock of Books". A vignette of the shop-front of "F. HARVEY | BOOK and PRINT | SELLER | 4 S.^t JAMES STREET | On Sale by FRANCIS HARVEY, BOOK AND PRINTSELLER, | 4, ST. JAMES'S STREET" is on the title page of his General Catalogue of Rare and Valuable Engraved Portraits (n.d.) <Michigan>. See Illus. 1.

Sale Catalogues of Blake's Works

- 69 43 Blake drawings,²¹⁶ "with original verses under each Drawing, mounted on drab paper, and bound in 1 volume, lettered 'Angels and Devils,' according to Blake's own instructions to the binder, which are preserved in the volume. 4to, calf, 52l. 10s." The work is divided into 7 sections,²¹⁷ the first of which is headed "Novelties":

Unless we sometimes rose o'er Common Things
We ne'er shall see the majesty of mind.

The second is called "Vanities":

Man's heart eats all things
And is hungry still.

The Third is entitled "Considerations":

O spirit who givest every pure desire
Delighting in the humblest heart to dwell,
Visit my soul.

²¹⁶ According to The Poetical Works of William Blake, ed. John Sampson (1905), 328, "I am informed by Mr. Quaritch that the MS. was proved to be not by Blake". Martin Butlin wrote to me on 14 April 1964: "I have not myself seen the ... manuscript, but Geoffrey Keynes saw it and says it has nothing to do with Blake".

²¹⁷ An undated and unnumbered Pearson Catalogue (after 1899), Lot 21, identifies the "seven sections, entitled 'Novelties, To Be imagined, Gravities, Many Things, Considerations, Dreadfuls, and Beings'".

From Smith it passed into the hands of Mr. Anderdon ... at whose sale in 1879 at Sotheby’s it was purchased.” I have not seen this 1879 catalogue.

²⁶⁷ I have reliable records of very few of the ephemeral catalogues of James Tregaskis (d. Nov 1926) cited here, and most of those records omit the catalogue number and title (Golden Head or Caxton's Head [from at least 1901]) and even the date. After 1920, the style of the firm was James Tregaskis and Son. I have normalized the Tregaskis catalogue records here within the limits of my knowledge.

²⁹³ T.J. Wise, who saw it at the sale, said "it was a tattered copy in grey paper wrappers" (Keynes, ed., The Gates of Paradise [1968], I, 49). Keynes says that this copy was sold at Sotheby's, 27 June 1906, Lot 142 for £22.1.0; the source of the error may be Book Prices Current for 1906, which lists Lot 142 in the Sotheby sale twice, once (correctly) as Dryden's Hind and the Panther and once (erroneously) as the Gates of Paradise.

³⁰⁵ It was apparently bought for £28 by George Herbert Palmer, who wrote on the penultimate fly-leaf "£28.0 Maggs 117".

³⁰⁶ Information about some Rosenbach catalogues derives from facsimiles in The Collected Catalogues of Dr. A.S.W. Rosenbach 1904-1951 In Ten Volumes Including an Index by Don Ward (N.Y., Toronto, London, Sydney, 1967) <Huntington>, abbreviated as "Collected Catalogues" below. N.B. "We have used our own consecutive-numbering system ...not the original Rosenbach numbers" (I, [i]). For instance, the catalogue for 1920 numbered "25" in the Collected Catalogues is numbered 20 in the original.

"This is probably the most important Blake item offered for sale in this country. ... It is consigned to me for unrestricted sale by Mrs. Ellen M. Dobinson of England, who purchased it from the widow of T.K. Richmond, whose initials are on the cover of the book. The widow, who was

Mrs. Dobinson's stepmother, kept possession of this sketch book till it passed into the possession of Mrs. Dobinson, the present owner. T.K. Richmond was Mrs. Dobinson's stepfather. Mrs. Dobinson was closely connected with William Blake by family friendship, and for this reason was allowed to buy everything connected with Blake at the time of her stepfather's death. Some of the most important Blake items owned by the British Museum were purchased from Mrs. Dobinson, among which were Blake's 'Job' and 'Ezekiel.' ... Original sketches by him [George Richmond] are much valued by the lovers of art, and there are quite a number in this album; including a pencil portrait of Richmond by Blake [sic].

"I have caused to be made several half-tone reproductions of a few of the sketches in this collection, the first being the 'Temptation of the Lord by Satan.' Second, 'And the Woman was given two wings of a Great Eagle.' Third, 'The Crucifixion'. Fourth, 'A Lunatic.' These reproductions are taken from the sketches at random, so as to convey a proper idea of the importance of the book, as well as to prove their genuineness, and upon inspection, the most skeptical would hesitate to pass an adverse opinion of them; beneath some of the sketches are explanatory lines in the authograph of Blake, and through the book are quotations and memoranda in the hand of Geo. Richmond, although many of Blake's sketches are of great beauty, we are not able here to make facsimiles of all; although fully worthy the expense.

"I should have mentioned that one of Blake's sketches, 'Christ and Mary Magdalene,' is a water color. It will be perceived by the reproductions, that all of Blake's sketches have that weird, mystical technique, which has never been even imitated by anybody since his death. It is truly a great relic, and I hope my patrons will fully appreciate it."

³³⁵ Martin Butlin, The Paintings and Drawings of William Blake (1981) lists no such portraits and nothing owned by R.C. Jackson.

According to Thomas Wright, The Life of Walter Pater (N.Y.: G.P. Putnam's Sons; London: Everett & Co., 1907), 180, Jackson showed Walter Pater his "Blake treasures", including an engraving of the Canterbury Pilgrims, Blake's original oil-colour sketch for Chaucer, several copies of Blake's works in proof state, including the plates to the Book of Job, Young's Night Thoughts, and Blair's Grave--all in uncut states, and a copy of the famous "Marriage of Heaven and Hell," coloured in water-colours by Blake's own hand.

³³⁶ The "Canterbury Pilgrims" is not in Robert N. Essick, The Separate Plates of William Blake (1983), though Essick does suggest (p. 154) that the "R. Jackson" who gave a copy to the Victoria & Albert Museum in 1889 may be Richard C. Jackson.

- 812 "The Library of William Blake, 25 vols., and 12 vols., various, in paper covers"³⁴⁰

Richard C. Jackson and all these works associated with Blake are deeply suspect.

Anderson Galleries, The Library of John Quinn, Part One (A-C) (N.Y., 1923) <Toronto> B. Complete Catalogue of the Library of John Quinn Sold by Auction in Five Parts [with Printed Prices]. (1924) Vol. I, pp. 64-70 C. (N.Y., 1969) Vol. I, pp. 64-70.

Lots 711-769 are works connected with "William Blake":

- 712 Mary Wollstonecraft, Original Stories (1791) [$32.50]
- 713 Cumberland, Thoughts on Outline (1796) [$8.50]
- 713a Hayley, Triumphs of Temper (1803) inscribed on the half-title "From the Author"[$5.50]
- 713b Hayley, Cowper (1803) "with Bell Scott bookplate"
- 714 Malkin, A Father's Memoirs (1806)
- 715 Blair, The Grave (1808) [$18]

³³⁷ BB 276 n3 guesses this may be the letter of 12 Sept 1800.

³³⁸ There is no other reference to such a chair which belonged to Blake, and its present whereabouts (if it survives) is unknown.

³³⁹ This is plainly not the "1789" edition; probably it is the edition "Printed as Manuscript" in 1917 for the William Blake Society, of which Richard C. Jackson was President.

³⁴⁰ Anon., "Felpham and the Poet-Painter Blake. The Thirty-fourth Meeting of the William Blake Society ...", Observer and West Sussex Recorder, 27 May 1914, said "books, with Blake's Autograph" were lent for display at the meeting by R.C. Jackson (BB 681 n1), but no book known to have been owned by Blake has any known association with Richard C. Jackson.

Richmond", "probably the most important Blake item ever offered for sale in this country". [However, though Mr Henkels is sure that "the most sceptical would hesitate to pass an adverse opinion on them", the half-tone reproductions (the frontispiece and at p. 6) of what he calls "The Temptation of the Lord by Satan", "A Lunatic", "And the Woman was given two wings of a Great Eagle", and "The Crucifixion" (i.e., a female mourner from what its inscription calls an "old print"), bearing "the authograph [sic] of Blake", seem to GEB and to Robert Essick to be clearly not the drawing or authograph of William Blake and probably that of George Richmond)]

³⁶² Essick, Separate Plates (1983), 113, identifies Lot 287 as Cumberland's inscribed copy of his card, £150.

³⁶³ This is for the first design after the title page of Job; apparently not in Butlin.

Unique engraved inscriptions: Pl. 1, on the ground beneath the altar: "Prayer to God is the Study of Imaginative Art"; (pl. 1, 21 reproduced)

Pl. 5: Some words in the final version are missing here

Pl. 16: "There is a peculiar smudge on this proof where these words ["The Accuser of our Brethren is Cast down which accused them before our God day & night"] should appear, and Blake may have deleted them and then changed his mind, or he may have substituted the words quoted here after this proof was pulled." Later, the proof reads "Subject ... And he ... them: for "subject ... Jesus ... them" and then changed his mind.

Pl. 21, on the ground beneath the altar: "Praise to God is the Exercise of Imaginative Art"

Design variants: Pl. 3: "The proof has a design of flames in the wide margins. In the later work, Blake substituted an entirely different design suggestive of a serpent's scaly tail and of hopping insects."

- 432 John Scott, Poetical Works (1782), "contemporary calf, gilt, the joints repaired". "It has not, we believe, been noted before that two variants exist of the 1782 edition. In Variant A, presumably the earlier, the verso of leaf A₄ is occupied by 15 lines of Errata. In Variant B this leaf is blank and the errata, with one exception, are corrected in the text. Although the setting up of the variants corresponds, page for page, the pagination differs, owing to a fly-title to the Elegies being present in Variant B, but not in A. The present copy is of the second variant." £2.2.0

I wish you wd. let Blake rest in his grave & not seek to make a handle of him for big talk[;] surely enough has been said about him in the life lately publish to which nothing can be added except a denial of some slanderous assertions respecting his sanity, the story of his acting Adam & Eve which I believe to be a malicious invention, other things injurious to his reputation as an Artist I was in time to hinder from publication, had I known of the Adam & Eve story in time I wd. certainly have remonstrated, had it been true I must certainly have heard of it before as Blake told me everything about himself.

⁴⁸¹ When Beth and I saw the book before the sale, Mr Michael Heseltine of Sotheby's told us that the volume was bought about thirty years before by a small-time collector; after his death, his son is offering it for sale. Robert N. Essick, "Blake in the Market Place, 1992", Blake (1993) says that the vendor was John Wilson.

⁴⁸² The catalogue does not mention that at the top of the verso of pl. 18 is the pencil signature of "W Blake 1773" in what appears to me to be Blake's hand, the "WB" formed as a ligature.

- 3 Jerusalem (C), with 9 reproductions; "the plates, which do not form a codex, skilfully reglued into the casing, resewn with original stab-holes partly visible, and rebacked at the British Museum in 1926 in white morocco, the original backstrip and lettering piece laid down", with a receipt of 2 April 1918 for £155.17.4 ("cheque & War Bonds") from F. Rinder Esq to James Tregaskis ("Estimate on request") [£617,500 to Felix Onwyns of Christie's (for an Anonymous Collection)]

- 5 Four Virgil pulls proclaimed with some fanfare as "relief etchings"⁴⁸⁷ on "two joined sheets of paper", reproduced (ESTIMATE: £10,000-£15,000) [£59,800 to the dealer Nicholas Lott]
- 6 Seventeen Virgil wood engravings, four reproduced, on thin wove paper (ESTIMATE: £4,000-£6,000) [£4,600]
- 7 Fourteen Virgil "wood engravings" on thin wove paper, one reproduced (ESTIMATE: £2,000-£3,000) [£2,530 to Windle (for stock)]
- 8 "The Man Sweeping the Interpreter's Parlour", first state [1A], reproduced, watermarked E & P (the same as that "invariably encountered in the illuminated books of the mid-1790s") (ESTIMATE: £40,000-£60,000) [£52,100 to a telephone bidder]

⁴⁸⁷ The identification of these prints as "relief etchings" is almost certainly mistaken. Anon. [Nicholas Barker], Book Collector, XLIII, (1994), 109 commented that the Virgil plates "were the subject of some inventive cataloguing".

Bristol 1848. Sm. 4to, presentation letter, 2 pp., from Cumberland's son, dated January 1849, black-bordered offprint from a Bristol newspapers [sic] with an obituary of Cumberland by John Eagles, August 11, 1848, pasted to the front inner cover. Mounted in the album are 13 etchings by Cumberland comprising the poem 'To the Nightingale', proofs of the frontispiece to Lewina, The Maid of Snowdon 1793 and the small tail-piece (aquatint by Cumberland and Stothard) to the same book, a portrait of Iyo, a Chinese merchant from Canton, etched in London in 1785, an unidentified coastal landscape, a river scene with a figure resembling Blake intended for A Poem on Landscapes 1793, a small unidentified landscape of a gateway with a portcullis, a small portrait of a bearded old man in a fur hat, a portrait identified in manuscript as of John Highmore and another similar of the Rev. S. Breadon, a portrait of John Horne Tooke reading and a view of his house at Wimbledon, and a small aquatint of 'a Saxon monument at Lord Holland's near Ramsgate'. The prints mounted on sheets of Whatman 1846 paper in an album of marbled boards, leather spine perished and contents loose, manuscript paper label on upper cover George Cumberland, Jr. seems to have assembled several of these little albums of his father's etched work as there is one in the Bristol City Art Gallery (with 14 etchings) and there were two in the collection of Sir Geoffrey Keynes (with 14 and 27 plates, some duplicating the Bristol specimens)", with a reproduction, £1,200.0.0⁵¹⁴ endpapers, evidence of earlier stabbing (rebacked, original backstrip laid down, corners worn). Preserved in a late-19th-century cream fabric jacket, finely embroidered by Mrs Reginald Frampton (according to the 1925 sale catalogue). Lola F. Frampton, the wife of painter Edward Reginald Frampton (c. 1870-1923), was a trained book designer and embroiderer. "The leaves "exhibit [a set of] stab-holes in the gutter margins ... [which] appear to match" the earlier of the two sets of stab-holes in the Innocence prints to Songs (E)".⁵¹⁸ The catalogue concludes "on the basis of this new evidence ... that Blake himself made up copy J as it stands today, with its complement of 21 [rather than the normal 31] plates".⁵¹⁹ (ESTIMATE: $1,000,000-$1,500,000) [$941,000 to Anon. - 21 Vetusta Monumenta (1747-1893), later half morocco, worn ⁵¹⁸ These three stab holes in Songs (E) are "about 5.0 cm from the top and 3.5, 3.4 cm apart" (BB, 414).

⁵¹⁹ This "new evidence" merely demonstrates that the Innocence plates [pl. 2-27, 53-54] in Songs (E) may once have been stabbed together with Innocence (J) [pl. 2-12, 16-18, 22-27, 54]. Clearly this stabbing was intended merely to keep these Innocent prints together; no one would suggest that Blake intended to issue together a copy of Songs of Innocence with 20 duplicate plates in it. The "new evidence" therefore scarcely bears upon when and by whom the prints in Innocence (J) were collated.

⁵³⁹ Tatham’s letter of 11 April 1829 about Catherine Blake is quoted in BR, 495-496, 871.

⁵⁴⁰ Robert Burns, Works, ed. W. Scott Douglas (1877), II, 292, referring only to the “Memorials” (according to a letter to me from Dennis Read).

⁵⁴¹ Dennis Read provided me with a Cromek genealogy according to which T.H. Cromek’s daughter Mary (1840-1907) married John Warrington (1820-1908), and their son Austin Warrington (1879-1953) married Isabella Wimpenny (1874-1970) and begot Paul Warrington (b. 1909). Austin’s brother Thomas Warrington (1881-1937) married Ursula Paul (1877-1964) and begot 8 children including Wilfred Warrington (b. 1910). Paul and Wilfred Warrington therefore are cousins.

- 24 Poetical Sketches (1783), previously unrecorded, lacking the final blank leaf (K4), most leaves 21.7 x 13.0 cm (leaf B1 narrower, leaves B4, D1, D4, E1, F1-2, G2, I2-3, and K1 shorter), "paperflaw[s]", dust and damp-staining on the title page, some scattered foxing and spotting particularly on the first two leaves, upper corner of the fore-edge of B1 and the lower corner of the fore-edge of F1 torn off, leaf B4 pasted to a stub, laid paper without watermark, chain lines 2.8 cm apart, all leaves between 0.11 and 0.12 mm. thick, some gatherings appear to have deckled (uncut) edges on the first and second leaves of the gathering, bound, probably in the first 3 decades of the 20th century, in dark-blue crushed morocco, blue cloth place-mark ribbon, marbled end-papers, 2 added flyleaves of off-white machine-made paper at the front and 2 at the back, gilt-stamped ruled frame lines front, back, and spine, the spine gilt-stamped "POETICAL | SKETCHES | W.B. | 1783", the inside front cover gilt-stamped "BOUND BY WOOD,⁵⁴⁶ LONDON", 3 leaves (I2, I4, K3) show 3 stabholes just outside the gutter 7.0 cm from the top margin and 4.4 and 3.0 cm apart (D3 and E2 show only the top and bottom holes, F2 shows only the top hole, H1 shows only the bottom hole), from a prior binding, title page emended by Blake;⁵⁴⁷ the copy was "clearly given by Blake"; it was later owned by a "Descendent [sic] of Frederick R. Jones of 'Eastbury', Thomas Ditton, Surrey, bookseller and antiquities dealer, later of Adwell House, Torre, near Torquay"; binding, title page, and pp. 14-15 reproduced on-line [£72,000 to John Windle (for Essick)⁵⁴⁸]

⁵⁴⁶ Perhaps Harry Wood (active in the 1890s) or more probably Henry Thomas Wood (1900-1930).

⁵⁴⁷ When the attribution to Blake was controverted by G.E. Bentley, Jr, Alexander Gourlay, and Joseph Viscomi, Bonhams added to its on-line catalogue: "The consensus of several scholarly opinions [sic] is that the inscriptions on the title are not in the hand of William Blake." In fact, they are by Blake's friend John Hawkins (1761-1841).

⁵⁴⁸ I cannot determine with confidence how much of this description is in the catalogue and how much was added by Essick after he acquired the book.

⁵⁵² Libson's title is "A Doubled-Sided Sheet of Drawings, Job and His Wife Playing Instruments", recto and verso". Essick reproduces the drawings and discusses them in detail. Essick gives a plausible provenance, but I cannot determine how much of it is explicit in the Libson catalogue: (1) Probably acquired directly from Blake by Charles Augustus Tulk (1786-1849); (2) Tulk's daughter Louisa Susanna Tulk (1819-48?), who mounted this watercolour in an album; (3) the album was inherited by her husband James Peard Ley (1807-85); (4) inherited by his son James Verchild Ley; (5) inherited by son James Richard Ley (sole heir to his daughter Judith Penelope Ley, executors John Paul Hindle and Judith Penelope Ley); (6) sold by the estate spring or early summer 2012 to the London dealer Lowell Libson Ltd. One of these may be the drawing which Nancy Flaxman told her husband John, July 16, that "our Friend" (C.A. Tulk?) "bought ... of him" [Blake] (BR (2), 326). "The Tulk family album ... contains 90 pp. of Whatman paper, leaves 22.0 x 27.0 cm., bound in calf, according to a representative of the Tulk estate. It included other works by Blake ..., Flaxman, and a good many drawings by others, probably Continental, artists."

⁵⁵³ Essick reproduces the drawings and discusses them in detail. The leaf to which the watercolour was attached was inscribed in pencil "Parents meeting". "Parental Affection" was advertised by Libson and reproduced in Art Newspaper, No. 236 (June 2013), and there are comments and reproductions in Anon., "Forthcoming Events", British Art Journal, XIII, 1 (Spring 2012), 96; Huon Mallalieu, "Drawn to Success", Country Life, CCVI, 26 (27 June 2012), 112-113; Richard Green, "Master Drawings", Burlington Magazine, CLIV (Sept 2012), 651; and Mallalieu, "From the Zoo to the Big Apple", Country Life, CCVI, 40 (2 Oct 2012), 114-115.
