

Recordkeeping for Faculty and Instructors

Faculty keep records pertaining to their teaching and research, many of them containing sensitive, confidential, and private information. Faculty also tend to work on personal laptops and often bring their work home with them.

As a result, faculty members and instructors should strive to keep their records well-organized and secure at all times.

Last updated: August 11, 2014

Source URL: https://library.vicu.utoronto.ca/archives/records_management/recordkeeping_manual/other_matters/recordkeeping_faculty_and_instructors